

Vocational Education & Training (VET)

Felicity Wilmot, VET Careers & Pathways Coordinator

What is VET?

Vocational Education and Training (VET)

A Nationally Recognised Training Qualification

Auspiced or delivered by a TAFE

Why choose a VET course?

- The VET subject area is of genuine interest to you
- Obtain a nationally recognised qualification in addition to your school certificate
- The industry specific training will help build your knowledge and understanding, to get you job ready
- Contributes to both the VCE and VCE VM senior secondary programs (is a requirement of the VCE VM)
- VET delivered to secondary school training offers some credit towards later apprenticeship and traineeship training
- Begin learning in a mature learning environment and develop independent organisational skills

What VET subjects can you choose?

VET Subjects offered in Seymour:

- Seymour College site, auspiced by GO TAFE:
 - Automotive
 - Building & Construction
 - Engineering
- GO TAFE, Seymour campus, on Wallis St:
 - Active Volunteering (auspiced by CRLLLEN)
 - Early Childhood Education & Care
 - Education Support
 - Health Services Assistance
 - Plumbing

Online Courses , auspiced by GO TAFE:

Who can engage in VET subjects?

- Year 10 students may choose to do a VET course
- All VCE Vocational Major students – it is a requirement for this group of students
- All School Based Apprenticeship & Traineeship (SBAT) students
- All VCE students can choose VET*

* VCE VET students are required to catch up on classes missed on a Wednesday. However, VCE students who do VET have one less VCE subject and therefore can use these 'frees' in their timetables to catch up.

When do students do VET?
